Bachelor Thesis from the year 2006 in the subject Business economics - Accounting and Taxes, grade: 1,7, University of Applied Sciences Essen, 127 entries in the bibliography, language: English, abstract: In recent years standard setting bodies as well as users such as capital markets have increased their demands for developing external reporting towards a HBR (HBR). Along with the requirement that listed companies located in Europe as of 1st January 2005 should prepare their consolidated financial statement in accordance with International Accounting Standards (IAS), more and more companies all over the world (freely or by obligation) are preparing and publishing their consolidated accounts applying International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). Using international accounting systems like IAS / IFRS with its central principle of “decision usefulness” makes it possible respectively obligatory to meet the information needs of a HBR by “ ... reducing the information asymmetry between providers and recipients of capital ... ” . “To be relevant to investors, creditors, and other for investment, credit and similar decision, [IAS / IFRS] accounting information must be capable of making difference in a decision by helping users to form predictions about the outcomes of past, present, and future events or to confirm correct expectations.” By calling for “decision useful” information within IAS / IFRS accounting one could ask why the collected information is only used for external business reporting. With its holistic approach, business reporting and its underlying informative basis determined by the principles and rules from IAS / IFRS provides the opportunity to use it as an internal control system in order to support managerial decisions as well. Or, to see it from a different angle, if “decision useful” information to prepare IAS / IFRS consolidated accounts are already gathered, it is to be questioned how CG can use them within the decision-making processes. Hence, the main goal of this elaboration is to figure out to what degree and how CG can benefit from “decision useful” information that holistic business reporting in accordance with IAS / IFRS holds. Therefore the present thesis, as the title already suggests, primarily deals with the analysis of (1st) what information HBR on the basis of IAS / IFRS accounting provides and (2nd) to what extent information from holistic business reporting is useful for corporate governance. Finally, this thesis will draw a conclusion on the analysis whether CG can be based on holistic business reporting in accordance with IAS / IFRS accounting and summarize its new insights in the topics of CG and HBR.

Your one indispensable guide to IAS/IFRS compliance International Accounting Standards (IAS) or International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), as they will be referred to henceforth, are receiving more attention than ever, having now been endorsed by the International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) and the European Union (EU). The EU will require that listed companies throughout the European Union apply IAS, instead of previously employed national accounting standards, by 2005, for consolidated financial reporting purposes. This, along with the growing list of nations (such as Australia, Russia, and Tanzania) either formally adopting IAS or basing national standards on them, and the ever-expanding group of major international companies choosing to report using that basis of accounting, will likely provide the impetus necessary to catapult IAS into truly global use and acceptance. Furthermore, the recent U.S. SEC's call for a fundamental shift in the philosophy underlying the U.S. accounting standard-setting process from the "rules-based" approach to the "principles-based" system (which has always been the hallmark of the International Accounting Standards) is generating a great deal of interest in these standards even in the U.S., thus paving the way for faster-than-expected global "convergence." Wiley IAS 2004 is the compact yet truly comprehensive quick-reference guide that accountants can depend on to assist in the understanding and preparing of financial statements presented in accordance with IAS/IFRS. This new edition includes complete coverage of all the standards and interpretations issued or revised by the International Accounting Standards Committee (IASC), as well as the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). In addition, excerpts taken from published financial statements of companies around the globe reporting under IAS illustrate practical applications of the standards and provide comprehensive examples of footnote disclosures. Furthermore, appendices to the book incorporating illustrative financial statements presented under IAS/IFRS, an IAS/IFRS checklist, and a table outlining comparisons of the salient provisions of IAS/IFRS to both U.S. GAAP and UK GAAP requirements enhance the practical utility of this book. EU companies required to switch to IFRS in 2005 will find practical "how-to" advice and implementation guidance on IFRS 1, First-Time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards. In addition, the book offers in-depth coverage of the latest changes made to extant standards by the IASB's "Improvements Project," which will become effective in 2005. This up-to-date 2004 edition covers important, complex requirements addressed by recent IAS/IFRS, including: IFRS 1, First-Time Adoption of international Financial Reporting Standards IAS 10, Events After the Balance Sheet Date IAS 32, Financial Instruments: Disclosure and Presentation IAS 33, Earnings Per Share IAS 34, Interim Financial Reporting IAS 35, Discontinuing Operations IAS 36, Impairment of Assets IAS 37, Provisions, Contingent Liabilities, and Contingent Assets IAS 38, Intangible Assets IAS 39, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement IAS 39 Implementation Guidance: Questions and Answers IAS 40, Investment Property IAS 41, Agriculture New for 2004: Analysis and interpretation of other expected changes (Exposure Drafts) to IFRS: ED 2, Share-Based payments ED 3, Business Combinations ED 4, Disposal of Non-Current Assets and Reporting of Discontinued Operations ED 5, Insurance Contracts Plus: Other IAS, including the revised standards on Presentation of Financial

All currently effective Standing Interpretations Committee (SIC)/ International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (IFRIC) interpretations are fully discussed and integrated into the coverage of the related IAS. The globalisation of capital markets has led to a sharp increase in the importance of International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) of the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). The breakthrough of IFRS in the European Union (EU) occurred with the approval of the so-called IAS Regulation by the European Parliament and the Council of the European Union. In one fell swoop, 7,000 companies were thus obliged to apply the standards of the IASB. This compact book contains all the official International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS) and Interpretations (SICs, IFRICs), approved by the European Union and thus mandatory for companies operating in capital markets. A handy reference for accountants, tax advisors, IFRS consultants, and companies applying IFRS. Newly included in this edition are amongst others the amendments to IAS 1 (Presentation of Financial Statements) and IAS 19 revised (Employee Benefits).
