De vijfde volledige roman van Andrzej Sapkowski met heks Geralt in de hoofdrol. Dé inspiratiebron voor de rol van Henry Cavill uit Netflix-hitserie The Witcher. De Vrouwe van het Meer is het zevende boek van Andrzej Sapkowski over de avonturen van heks Geralt, en een direct vervolg op de roman De Zwaluwentoren. Als Ciri in een vreemde wereld de jonge ridder Galahad en de Vrouwe van het Meer aantreft, besluit ze hun haar verhaal te vertellen. De oorlog die woedt heeft ondertussen zijn hoogtepunt bereikt als ook de gevaarlijke magiër Vilgefortz zich in de strijd gooit. In het gevecht dat volgt verliezen velen van Geralts kameraden hun leven. En er dreigt nieuw gevaar. Emhyr, de keizer van Nilfgaard, wordt door dezelfde profetie geleid die ook Vilgefortz en Ciri volgen. En hoewel hij in het bezit is van een overweldigend leger, schrikt Emhyr ervoor terug zijn plan door te zetten als hij wordt geconfronteerd met Geralt en Ciri. Vooral als blijkt dat hij meer gemeen heeft met Ciri dan met de oude profetie.

This guide describes ascents of 32 Lake District fells that can be climbed from the Buttermere, Crummock, Loweswater and Newlands valleys, including Haystacks, a perennial favourite, and the mighty Grasmooor. An exceptionally scenic corner of Lakeland, the mountains here are characterised by striking ridges, dramatic crags and heather-clad slopes. The walking opportunities are as varied as they are pleasurable, promising spectacular views of the surrounding lakes, fells and valleys and many memorable adventures. Unlike other guidebooks which describe a single or limited number of routes to a particular destination, the aim of the Walking the Lake District Fells series is to offer all the options. These are presented as numbered sections which can be combined to create infinite possibilities - from simple ascents to longer ridge routes. You'll find the classics and popular routes alongside less traditional alternatives perfect for the wandering spirit. The series gives you both the freedom to devise your own routes and the information to make informed decisions, thanks to the clear descriptions of the routes, terrain, hazards, interesting features and safe descent paths should the weather close in. Also included are a handful of classic ridge routes for longer fell days. Mark Richards' inimitable text is complemented by HARVEY mapping and the author's own beautiful sketch topos and panoramas. Perfect for keen hillwalkers and peak-baggers alike and ideal both for pre-planning and use on the hill, Walking the Lake District Fells is the new incarnation of the Fellranger series, which sees the volumes updated and trimmed to a more practical size. These true connoisseurs' guides are sure to inspire you to get out and explore the beautiful fells of Lakeland. For those collecting fell summits, a 'Fellrangers' hill list register can be found on the Long Distance Walkers Association website.

A fresh take on the traditional modes, showing how they are used in texts of all kinds, and that they are central to all the writing, speaking, and thinking that we do.

The Abduction Prince Aiden and Princess Ariana were busy making preparations to celebrate the wonder of their first anniversary. The year had flown by, fulfilling their every dream. Aiden had adapted well to the expectations and demands of royalty, along with fatherhood. Angus, two months old, was the pride and joy of the monarchy. The marriage and parenthood brought out the softer side of the blacksmith. His son looked much like him and he held his legacy as often as possible. Princess Camille loved being a first time aunt, spending as much time as she could with Ariana and the baby. The king and Gideon reflected their approval, but usually at a distance. Aiden had relocated his blacksmith trade inside the perimeter of the castle walls, training his two replacements, while using the forge from time to time, to satisfy a more creative nature. His travels had shown him a wide array of artistic applications for his craft and a use that had yet to be satisfied in the kingdom. Aiden designed plates, bowls, mugs and a variety of hand tools, most of which were given away after fulfilling the needs of the royal family. Surprisingly, he'd given his cottage to a village family, whose child had told the best story at one of his weekly gatherings. The prince had become a farmer, as well, having recently harvested his first crop of corn. He'd dried kernels for the evenings anniversary festivities in the courtyard. It would be his first presentation of pop corn since his return from the quest. He could hardly wait to see the reaction his new treat would have on the children and the prince planned to hand kernels out to the villagers for the next years planting. Times were good and spirits high, in the realm, where the future looked promising for all. King Darian commissioned the kingdoms first ship. The vessel was built of the finest wood, with help from the Egyptian carpenters. It was a beauty to behold, equal in size to the Argo and the ship would open the island up to trade with countries in the inland sea. Jib supervised the raising of the ship and became the kingdoms first captain, through kings decree. The ship was christened the Phoenix, to honor Aiden's quest and his daughters royal marriage. It was the first of six vessels commissioned by the king, with shipbuilding and global trade escalating the rapid growth of the small, inadequate anchorage. Scota sailed back to Egypt aboard the Phoenix on its maiden voyage at her fathers request and having lost any other reason to stay. Everything changed for her with the emotional loss of her husband at the hands of the Nordics. The princess carried the phoenix feather on the return to her homeland, fulfilling Aiden's commitment to Queen Nefertiti. King Darian opened her old settlement up for villagers to recolonize and also began construction of a larger seaport capable of handling the increased demands of the realm. The new harbor's location was near the mouth of a small river, less than a mile from the castle. While plans for the anniversary celebration were being finalized, Aiden went to the gatehouse to pay the wizard a visit. He hadn't seen Edric since just after his son was born. He took dried corn kernels, from the crop the wizard had helped him plant, to show the magician some of his own magic. Edric hadn't been as preoccupied with his magic mirror since the quest had concluded, spending much of his time grooming his own garden. When there was no answer at the door, the prince walked to the backside of the gatehouse, finding the wizard clipping roses from his prized bushes.

We lured him to a motel with a promised sexual encounter unlike anything he'd ever known. We made good on our promise—there was no sex, but it was without doubt unlike anything he'd ever known. We spiked his drink, teased, and toyed with him until he passed out. Then we tied him up, duct-taped his mouth, threw him into the trunk of our car and drove him to an abandoned farmhouse in the woods where he could scream himself hoarse without anyone hearing him. We waited until the drug wore off and then introduced him to pain. In the end we gave him a choice; he could tell us what we wanted to know and die quickly or die stripped naked with syrup poured in his ears, nose, eyes, and on other areas of his body while tied down in the vicinity of a fire ant community. We took him outside where he could view the area—there were dozens of ant hills. I thanked him for his cooperation and made sure he saw me smile as I slit his throat. I can only speculate as to how deep corruption goes and who is involved in any given circumstance. I only know I will never fully trust my government ever again.”

Iris Standish has always been the responsible sister: the one who studied hard, settled down, and always made the right choices—even when they came at the expense of her passions. Still, despite the rush of dress fittings, floral arrangements, and rehearsal dinners, Iris is learning to put herself first. And amid a backdrop of late-night swims and a soul-restoring barn renovation comes Cooper Woods, a high school crush who beckons with the promise of a new start. While Leah faces a past that has finally caught up to her, Iris prepares to say goodbye to a future that is suddenly far from certain. As Hampstead Lake shimmers in the background, Iris must decide when to wade in cautiously and when to dive—and, ultimately, how to ferry herself to safe harbors in this

The words of the Dean of Students echoed in his mind like a message of doom. "Well, Mr. Brady, I'm sorry to have to tell you this, but you still didn't make it." Het begon allemaal met een uitnodiging voor een bruiloft. Als Floriana niet net de uitnodiging had gekregen waarin de liefde van haar leven aankondigde te gaan trouwen, dan had ze wellicht die auto niet over het hoofd gezien. Als ze die auto niet over het hoofd had gezien, dan hadden twee volslagen vreemden nooit haar hand vast hoeven houden (Esmé, gepensioneerd bibliothecaresse) en de ambulance hoeven bellen (Adam, projectontwikkelaar). Als ze Esmé en Adam niet had leren kennen, dan had ze nooit de moed op kunnen brengen om naar die bruiloft in Italië te gaan. En als Esmé niet haar nieuwe vrienden had willen helpen, dan was ze nooit teruggekeerd naar de plek waar ze zestig jaar geleden haar eerste liefde ontmoette. Ze heeft altijd willen weten wat er is gebeurd met de man die haar hart veroverde, en nu is het tijd om eindelijk dat hoofdstuk van haar leven af te sluiten. Aan het Comomeer in Italië ontdekken Floriana, Adam en Esmé dat je je verleden los moet kunnen laten om je toekomst te omarmen. Erica James heeft al veel bestsellers op haar naam staan en wordt geprezen om haar meeslepende romans, waaronder `Een nieuw begin en `Kind van haar vader . Er zijn al meer dan 270.000 van haar boeken verkocht in Nederland en België. Ze schrijft over echte mensen in herkenbare situaties en dat heeft haar een grote groep fans opgeleverd.
