Description Are you looking for a complete guide on day trading? Then Keep reading... Before you begin day trading, you need first to understand what it is not. It's not investing, which is buying a stake in some asset that you hope will build a profit over a long period. The length of time is subjective, but the most investor will typically hold onto assets for several years, sometimes decades. They are also normally concerned with what business they choose to invest in. They look into companies to make sure they avoid litigation, have strong products, pay off debts, and make solid profits. Day trading is, pretty much, the opposite. It involves buying and selling stock in a single day. These types of traders will borrow money so they can take advantage of little price changes in highly liquid indexes and stocks. Even still, they tend to follow the same type of wisdom that longer-term investors: Buy low and sell high, day traders just do it in a smaller time frame. A typical day trader's day may look something like this. A day trader decides to buy 1,000 shares in stock they like at 10 am. Then when the process begins to rise at 10:15, they sell it. If the stock was up by half when they sell, then they have made $500, minus the commission. Let's say the trader is using Scottrade; the commission could range from $7 to $27, which would mean they would make a net profit of $493 to $473. Then the trader would have to take into consideration their taxes. Whenever you sell an investment that you have owned for less than a year, it is taxed based on your personal gain rate, and this can sometimes be as high as 35%. Long-term gains aren't taxed any higher than 20%. That makes tax planning extremely important in the day trading world. This book covers the following topics: Why learning day trading today is an opportunity? What is day trading and how to get started? Interest rates Retail vs institutional traders Advantage and negatives of day trading Types of trading Platforms and broker What is an option contracts Call and put option on the stock market Volatile in the markets Day trading and swing trading Candlestick Day trading strategies And Much More... If you think the profit looks small, keep in mind a day trader doesn't just make a couple of trades in a day, they will make 25 to 30. That means they multiply their profits by having a high trade volume. To help them minimize risks, they won't normally keep a stock overnight because it can change a lot during that period. Corporate announcements and news events will drive the volatility of the market, so the trader needs to be available and able to respond at the drop of a hat. Unlike a long-term investor who waits until they think things through and receives more information, day traders move quickly and make decisions in just a couple of minutes or seconds. Very few careers can offer you the freedom, flexibility and income that day trading does. As a day trader, you can live and work anywhere in the world. You can decide when to work and when not to work. You only answer to yourself. That is the life of the successful day trader. Many people aspire to it, but very few succeed. Day trading is not gambling or an online poker game. To be successful at day trading you need the right tools and you need to be motivated, to work hard, and to persevere. At the beginning of my trading career, a pharmaceutical company announced some positive results for one of its drugs and its stock jumped from $1 to over $55 in just two days. Two days! I was a beginner at the time. I was the amateur. I purchased 1,000 shares at $4 and sold them at over $10. On my very first beginner trade, I made $6,000 in a matter of minutes. It was pure luck. I honestly had no idea what I was doing. Within a few weeks I had lost that entire $6,000 by making mistakes in other trades. I was lucky.

My first stupid trade was my lucky one. Other people are not so lucky. For many, their first mistake is their last trade because in just a few minutes, in one simple trade, they lose all of the money they had worked so hard for. With their account at zero, they walk away from day trading. As a new day trader you should never lose sight of the fact that you are competing with professional traders on Wall Street and other experienced traders around the world who are very serious, highly equipped with advanced education and tools, and most importantly, committed to making money. Day trading is not gambling. It is not a hobby. You must approach day trading very, very seriously. As such, I wake up early, go for a run, take a shower, get dressed, eat breakfast, and fire up my trading station before the markets open in New York. I am awake. I am alert. I am motivated when I sit down and start working on the list of stocks I will watch that day. This morning routine has tremendously helped my mental preparation for coming into the market. Whatever your routine is, starting the morning in a similar fashion will pay invaluable dividends. Rolling out of bed and throwing water on your face 15 minutes before the opening bell just does not give you sufficient time to be prepared for the market's opening. Sitting at your computer in your pajamas or underwear does not put you in the right mindset to attack the market. I know. I've experienced all of these scenarios. In How to Day Trade for a Living, I will show you how you too can take control over your life and have success in day trading on the stock market. I love teaching. It's my passion.
