From the first printing press to the World Wide Web—the Cat looks at inventors and inventions that have changed our lives! The Cat in the Hat goes back in time to meet with the masterminds of more than a dozen inventions that made a major impact on our lives today—from famous figures like Thomas Edison, Alexander Graham Bell, and the Wright brothers to lesser-known ones like Garrett Morgan, Mary Anderson, and Tim Berners-Lee. Children will learn basic information about each invention, as well as fascinating facts like how Guttenberg's famous printing machine was made from an old wine press, how a steaming teakettle may have inspired the creation of the steam engine, and how table salt changed the history of photography. Ideal for supporting the Common Core State Standards, and a natural for fans of the hit PBS Kids show The Cat in the Hat Knows a Lot About That!, this is a great way to introduce beginning readers to science!

using women wasn't what he needed or wanted. He was looking for more. Crystal and Colton meet one fateful night and challenge each others' beliefs and rules. Colton falls in love immediately with Crystal. But he will have a difficult road ahead of him trying to convince Crystal that she loves him also. The sparks fly and the battle is on

***This is the SWEET version of Bound by Blood, edited to be suitable for a younger audience*** Dr. Samantha Moore is one of the youngest and most acclaimed researchers in the world. Her specialty is blood and she has been recruited by the largest pharmaceutical company in Scotland. For what purpose she cannot begin to imagine, but in an attempt to break out of her painfully shy shell, she throws caution to the wind and leaves her family and best friend behind in Savannah. Dr. Kade Gunnach is taking a chance hiring an outsider, but he's desperate to find out how to help his sister. He believes the key lies in her blood, but so far, no one has found the answers. When the new researcher walks into his office, he's unprepared for his reaction to her and the life-changing ramifications her arrival brings. They're drawn together by a force neither is prepared for, but Kade is holding something back. Something that could scare her away. When Samantha learns his secret, will she run? Will Kade be able to live with the answers he's been desperately searching for?

Alexander von Humboldt (1769-1859) was een moedige ontdekkingsreiziger en de bekendste wetenschapper van zijn tijd. Hij had een grote honger naar avontuur en ontdekkingen, hij beklom de hoogste vulkaan ter wereld, reisde door Siberië, waar de bevolking aan miltvuur leed, en deed onderzoek in de meest afgelegen gebieden. Met zijn ideeën was hij zijn tijd ver vooruit. Andrea Wulf beschrijft zijn gedurfde expedities en geeft op toegankelijke wijze inzicht in zijn baanbrekende onderzoek naar de vorming van het landschap op verschillende continenten. Humboldt wist toen al dat menselijk ingrijpen effect heeft op het klimaat. Zijn gedachten werden aangescherpt door zijn vriendschappelijke relaties met Goethe en Jefferson, en vormden een inspiratiebron voor grootheden uit diverse disciplines, onder wie Darwin, Bolívar, Wordsworth en Thoreau.

The Pat Hobby Stories are a collection of 17 comedic short stories written by F. Scott Fitzgerald. They first appeared in Esquire magazine between January 1940 and May 1941, but in 1962 they were collected into a single book and published posthumously. Pat Hobby is a once successful screenwriter in Hollywood, but now an alcoholic and broke, who spends his time hanging around the studio, hoping for work. The stories generally revolve around him hatching a plan to earn money or glory in some way, but they usually end in further humiliation. The introduction to the book states, "while it would be unfair to judge this book as a novel, it would be less than fair to consider it as anything but a full-length portrait. It was as such that Fitzgerald worked on it, and would have wanted it presented in book form, after its original magazine publication. He thought of it as a comedy."

Grant Cole, like thousands of other young Americans, was drafted into the U. S. Army early in the Korean War. Grant grew up during the 1930s and 1940s in Los Angeles, California. After school, he entered the machinist trade. Because of this experience, the Army assigned him to the Ordnance Corps. In Korea, he was placed in a maintenance unit in Seoul and remained there for the remainder of his active duty. His view of the war there was very different from one on the front lines. Grant learned that the face of war is always an ugly one.

reizen en het lichaam kunt overnemen van je andere ik in een parallel universum. Het klinkt als sciencefiction, maar voor Marguerite is het realiteit. Helemaal wanneer haar vader wordt vermoord en de moordenaar - de briljante onderzoeksassistent Paul - naar een andere dimensie vlucht. Ze twijfelt geen moment en gaat achter hem aan... In de dimensies waarin ze terechtkomt - futuristisch Londen, keizerlijk Rusland, een wereld die grotendeels onder water staat - komt ze verschillende versies tegen van Paul en gaat ze steeds sterker in zijn onschuld geloven. Stukje bij beetje ontdekt ze dat de waarheid over haar vaders dood beangstigender is dan ze ooit had kunnen denken... 'Dit boek is onmogelijk samen te vatten; het gaat over wraak, liefde en verre reizen, en de locaties zijn prachtig en dromerig.' - De Leesfabriek 'Een mooie mix van avontuur, sci-fi en romantiek.' - School Library Journal

If you thought Hare was finished after the witchcraft incidents in the last book, think again. This time he is taking on the vengeful new King and the big five. The outcome will surprise readers, as the end of this chapter in the Africa animal kingdom is volatile and very dramatic.

"Happily ever after" is a short book on starting to heal America, and what YOU can do to make your own life "Happily ever after" as well as move that happiness through your family, city, county, and state and America. Written in simple English for teaching programs and families with young children or families where English is a second language.

Indianapolis police veteran, Lt. Leroy Powder, works nights. Every night. It suits him, not least because it keeps him away from the department's higher-ranks - the ones who are less concerned about doing things right than about advancing their careers. Powder's not popular with those types because he likes things to be done right. He's even ready to show other officers how to become better cops. Not that they always appreciate it. Powder's not a popular guy, but so what? Doing right by the citizens of Indy is what matters. It's one more average night in Indianapolis. Burglaries, assaults, a missing girl. And then someone reports a body, a man murdered with a distinctive MO. But why don't the daytime cops in Homicide work the case right? Well, they can't complain if Powder helps out on his own time, can they? And what's a private eye named Samson got to do with it all?

A secret tore best friends Evelyn "Button" Peters and Winnalee Malone apart. Now, nearly a decade later, a secret brings them back together. Nine years ago Button and Winnalee began recording observations in their Book of Bright Ideas, a tome they believed would solve the mystery of how to live a mistake-free life. Now it's 1970, a time of peace, love, war, and personal heartbreak. Button's mother is dead and her grieving father has all but abandoned his children. Quiet, thoughtful Button has traded college for a sewing job in her mother's bridal shop to help her Aunt Verdella raise her whirlwind six-year-old brother. In Button's free time, she writes letters to the boy she loved from afar through high school, hoping he will come to love her as more than a friend. Then, like that magical Wisconsin summer of '61, Button is greeted with the wild, gusty arrival of Winnalee. Now a beautiful flower child, Winnalee is everything Button is not. She's been to Woodstock and enjoys "free love," but their steadfast bond of friendship is tested as Button begins to notice the cracks in Winnalee's carefree façade. And then Winnalee's mother arrives with a surprise that Button never sees coming, and the fiery determination to put things right in both families once and for all.

The Practice of Collaborative Counseling and Psychotherapy: Developing Skills in Culturally Mindful Helping is a comprehensive introduction to counseling and psychotherapy skills designed to teach future practitioners how to develop and foster collaborative relationships with their clients. Keeping power relations and cultural diversity at the forefront, Paré's text examines, step by step, the skills involved in collaborative therapeutic conversation—an approach that encourages a contextual view of clients and counteracts longstanding traditions of focusing primarily on individual pathology. Indeed, this insightful text teaches students how to keep clients at the heart of their therapy treatment by actively engaging them in the helping process.

THE CAT IN the Hat puts to rest any notion that money grows on trees in this super simple look at numismatics, the study of money and its history. Beginning with the ancient practice of bartering, the Cat explains various forms of money used in different cultures, from shells, feathers, leather, and jade to metal ingots to coins (including the smallest—the BB-like Indian fanam—and the largest—the 8-foot-wide, ship-sinking limestone ones from the Islands of Yap!), to the current king of currency, paper. Also included is a look at banking, from the use of temples as the first banks to the concept of gaining or paying interest, and a step-by-step guide to minting coins. A fascinating introduction is bound to change young reader's appreciation for change!

This work is the first of its kind to single out individual short fiction films for comprehensive presentation and close study. Two Men and a Wardrobe (Roman Polanski, Poland, 1958, 15 min.), Coffee and Cigarettes (Jim Jarmusch, USA, 1986, 6 min.), Sunday (John Lawlor, Ireland, 1988, 8 min.), Cat's Cradle (Liz Hughes, Australia, 1991, 12 min.), Eating Out (Pal Sletaune, Norway, 1993, 7 min.), Come (Marianne Olsen Ulrichsen, Norway, 1995, 4.5 min.), Wind (Marcell Ivanyi, Hungary, 1996, 6 min.), Possum (Brad McGann, New Zealand, 1997, 14 min.), and The War Is Over (Nina Mimica, Italy, 1997, 7 min.) are the nine short fiction films studied. The films represent a broad range of storytelling approaches and a number of very different film cultures. Each film has a chapter of its own, including a shot-by-shot reproduction of the film with a still from every shot. In most cases, an interview with the director and an original screenplay and storyboard is also included. The book also describes a new conceptual model, derived from the films studied in the work, which can be used both for analyzing the ways in which a short fiction film tells its story and as a set of guidelines for student filmmakers writing their own screenplays.

Norval the Fish is hosting a seaside talkshow for the Fish Channel—and the Cat in the Hat and Thing One and Thing Two are Cameracat and Crew! Among Norval's special guests are his old friend Clam-I-Am (a shy gal who lives in the sand and likes to spit), along with horseshoe and hermit crabs, jellyfish, sand fleas, starfish, seagulls, and miscellaneous mollusks. Seaweed, seaglass, tides, tidal pools, dunes, driftwood, and waves make cameo appearances, too.

Warning: Beginning readers are apt to be swept away!

Have you in your moments of solitude and reflection looked at a product or service and wondered, "I wish I knew how to invent that - I would have become rich and famous"? Or perhaps, "I had thought about that idea years ago ! I should have invented that". Well, you are not alone. We are born with the natural gift of creativity and innovative thinking. This makes us the dominant species in the planet. Why then, do we fall short of dominating innovation? Why do we have these amazing ideas that can make a massive impact lives and yet shy away to claim our right to wealth and fame? Not any more...Our natural creativity has pain to pleasure, from pleasure to the state of exhilaration. Essentially shifting the emotional state of a person from a low energy state to higher energy level is the problem. When that emotional shift is occurring through a solution, we say that the presenting problem is being solved. What if you could commercialize your solutions that could make an impact on others who have not quite figured things out just yet? Read this book to get your feet wet on this amazing world of innovations and inventions, to turn your intangible creative thoughts into tangible things by way of innovative products and services that makes an impact on your target market and brings you wealth and fame. Your UniqueImpactAbility IS the key to the door that opens up a whole new world of opportunities for you in the new Economy 2.0 that is upon us now.

ten huwelijk vragen omdat ik straks miljarden verdien.’ Op haar negentiende richtte Elizabeth de meest veelbelovende start-up van Silicon Valley op: Theranos. Haar revolutionaire idee was een nieuwe, snelle manier van bloedtesten, die de medische wereld op zijn kop zou zetten. Al in het eerste jaar haalde Holmes het ongekende bedrag van 45 miljoen dollar op en haar portret prijkte op alle businesskranten en -bladen. Extraordinary, werd het genoemd. Maar haar bedrijf bleek gebaseerd op leugens en vervalste testresultaten, en Holmes voerde een schrikbewind om haar moedwillige fraude te verhullen. De meermaals bekroonde Wall Street Journal-journalist John Carreyrou ontmaskerde Holmes en zijn onthullingen brachten haar ten val. Zijn diepgravende journalistieke onderzoek is de basis voor dit adembenemende en shockerende boek over een evil woman en de waanzin van het snelle geld.
