Elizabeth Abbott Green has written a compelling narrative of the life of a family, lived well but not without struggle...a life that spans the last half of the 20th Century and into the Millenium, a life of equal parts of joy, heartache...and faith. Even though the rigors of a military life impose unique requirements on the family...the added pressures of a foreign war, extended absence from the family unit by the military member, unexpected and frequent family moves and changes of schools...our family seemed to adapt well, and, for a time, to thrive. The catalyst for the book, "Seeds of Destruction," was a major incident that almost took the life of our second son Greg. The book should be interesting to many audiences: young military families trying to cope with the almost constant overseas demands placed on them in today's military; people of all ages who love travel and are willing and able to accept the challenge; and Christians everywhere who are interested in Bible prophecy. Seeds of Destruction is the work of a lifetime, not only of the entire family who lived it, but especially a work of total commitment for over 30 years by the author, and the focused study of Christianity and the signs of our times. Elizabeth Abbott Green's analysis of the true path to God's will for us is exemplary, and I believe it should be read by all who feel that much of today's world is taking us in the opposite direction.

Dont Throw Away Gods Seeds: They are Gifts From God is about three young women. Lydia, Tisha, and Brianne have experienced different trials and circumstances when they found Star seeds from Sirius incarnated on Terra have to fulfil their destiny. The book presents originally and synthetically the following topics: - The star-seed concept. - The journey of Sirians' souls from Sirius star system to Earth. - Problems encountered by Sirian star-seed beings during incarnations on planet Earth. - Compulsory activities of Sirian star-seed beings during incarnations on planet Earth. - The interventions of The Council Of Spiritual Guides on Sirian star-seed's destiny. The book is written in a pragmatic manner giving precise indications to the readers. I recommend this book to all Sirian star seeds that are in the quest of their spiritual essence.

This book gives a vivid and engaging account of anthropological exploration on a remote Greek island in the 1960s and is based on letters, progress reports, field notes and diary entries made at the time. These allow the reader to experience the bewildering early weeks of fieldwork in the Spring of 1966, the writer's first impressions, mistakes and understandings, and her attempts to make sense of what was going on during the sixteen months she spent on the island. The reader can also share in the emerging understanding resulting from long-term association and familiarity, gaining a sense of how months of work can be summed up in a short phrase or single sentence in later writings. Since the 1960s the author has returned to the island many times, and her later impressions and understandings are integrated in this book adding richness and depth to the material. This enables the reader, together with the author, to look back on those months from a viewpoint in the 90s. The islanders who regarded themselves as far from God in the sixties are now struggling to make a living from tourism, marketing their island as one of the unspoilt places in Greece. This is not only a dynamic and important reflexive account for the anthropologist, but an engaging and thoroughly enjoyable read for anyone interested in Greece or travel writing. Readers with an interest in modern history, sociology or Greek studies will also appreciate the depth and quality of Kenna's research as well as her accessible writing style.

This study of Gassendi's philosophy and science puts forth the view that his atomism follows from his empiricism: as an outgrowth of our best theory of knowledge and sound scientific method, we get evidence that warrents the micophysical theory.

Ever wonder about the meaning of life? Why we're here? What the Universe is all about? The force that expressed itself through Jesus, Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as channels for what is commonly referred to as God communicates again today as the world begins to enter a period of Spiritual Ascension with a new consciousness and awareness. This force, which refers to itself as Cosmic Awareness, has dictated this book as a set of 144 carefully structured lessons that took over 10 years to create. They are designed to lead you, step by step, from where you are to where you want to be. This amazing information begins with Cosmic Awareness explaining what It is, how the Universe was created, and leads you through birth, childhood, adulthood, magic, sex, death and far beyond into other dimensions - explaining all of the mysterious "Secrets of the Universe" that everyone is looking for the absolute answer of "Who, In Fact, You Really Are." A spiritual teacher's romp through life's most profound mysteries—the hole at the center of our lives, and the wholeness of our connection with God. In Looking for God, spiritual teacher and psychotherapist Chuck Hillig offers a simple yet profound message delivered in lighthearted prose. Guiding readers to explore “the empty wholeness of who you really are,” Hillig uses the central metaphor of a hole—represented in this eBook edition by a large black dot at the center of each page. By pointing to the hole, Hillig asks us to confront the emptiness we may fear in ourselves, while also recognizing the (w)holeness of our unity with God. This unique and uplifting book is a gift of inspiration to all readers who search for happiness and love.

As titled, "Soul Seeds" explores elemental functions of thought, reasoning and reality. It analyzes life and how each of the seeds sustains or defeats the soul and the need for personal discipline and appreciation. The imagery gathers in one basket the different emotions that paint a closest matter of attention to the mind state and collectedness. It is a reflection of situations. Scattered thoughts are thrown into an imagery of life through a natural psycho-philosophical analysis. The book seeks to promote nature, culture, love, kindness, forgiveness and spiritual freedom. The tone of each word is natural and expressive, to give a creative setting of inference and engage the mind that matters or bothers to. The book testifies that written art is created from any life circumstance.

From the Bronze Age through the Middle Ages, a network of trade and migration routes brought people from across Eurasia into contact. Their commerce included political, social, and artistic ideas, as well as material goods such as metals and textiles. Reconfiguring the Silk Road offers new research on the earliest trade and cultural interactions along these routes, mapping the spread and influence of Silk Road economies and social structures over time. This volume features contributions by renowned scholars uncovering new discoveries related to populations that lived in the Tarim Basin, the advanced state of textile manufacturing in the region, and the diffusion of domesticated grains across Inner Asia. Other chapters include an analysis of the dispersal of languages across the Eurasian Steppe and a detailed examination of the domestication of the horse in the region. Contextualized with a foreword by Colin Renfrew and introduction by Victor Mair, Reconfiguring the Silk Road provides a new

The Two Seeds is an exposition of Genesis 3. "And Hashem Elohim said to the Woman [Eve], 'What is this you have done?' And the Woman said, 'The Serpent [the Nachash] beguiled [cheated, outwitted, and deceived] me, and I ate.' And Hashem Elohim said to the Serpent, 'Because you have done this, you are cursed above all [domestic] animals and above every [wild] living thing of the field; upon your belly you shall go, and you shall eat dust [and what it contains] all the days of your life. And I will put enmity between you and the Woman, and between your seed and her Seed; He will bruise and tread your head underfoot, and you will lie in wait and bruise His heel'" (Gen. 3:13ff). After the Fall of Man (Adam), the war in heaven led by the archangel Michael against the dragon, thence, the ancient serpent Satan, would continue on the earth. "And the huge Dragon was cast down and out—that ancient serpent, who is called the Devil and Satan, he who is the seducer [deceiver] of all Humanity the World over; he was forced out and down to the Earth, and his angels were flung out along with him" (Rev. 12:1ff, 19:1ff; Isa. 14:1ff; Ezek. 28:1ff; Luke 10:1ff; John 16:7ff; among others). The war between the two seeds would be a war of the spirit beings fought through human beings and other living things to the detriment of those who make the wrong choices during the battles to save the world of man! How did it begin, and how will it end? Prophet Daniel (12:8) wanted to know more and wrote, "And I heard, but I did not understand. Then I said: O my Lord, what shall be the issue and final end of these things?" This is the one question every believer is dying to know, literally. A young woman tells a focus group that Diet Coke is like her boyfriend. A twenty-something tattoos the logo of Turner Classic Movies onto his skin. These consumers aren't just using these brands. They are engaging in a rich, complex, ever-changing relationship, and they'll stay loyal, resisting marketing gimmicks from competitors and influencing others to try the brand they love. How can marketers cultivate and grow the deep relationships that earn this kind of love and drive lasting success for their brands? In Romancing the Brand, branding expert Tim Halloran reveals what it takes to make consumers fall in love with your brand. Step by step, he reveals how to start, grow, maintain, and troubleshoot a flourishing relationship between brand and consumer. Along the way, Halloran shares the secrets behind establishing a mutually beneficial "romance." Drawing on exclusive, in-depth interviews with managers of some of the world's most iconic brands, Romancing the Brand arms you with an arsenal of classic and emerging marketing tools—such as benefit laddering and word-of-mouth marketing—that make best-in-class brands so successful. The book is filled with examples, strategies, and tools from powerful brands that consumers love, including Coke, Dos Equis, smartwater, the Atlanta Falcons, Domino's Pizza, Bounty, Turner Classic Movies, and many more. Ultimately, Romancing the Brand provides marketers with a set of principles for making brands strong, resilient, and beloved—and Spiritual Seeds: How to Cultivate Spiritual Wealth within Your Future Children is about “gaining the resources to impart spiritual and social wealth to our children.” The authors clarify the division of labor (God’s, parents’ and children’s roles) raising children and letting them leave the nest. The primary reader base is Millennials, who are open to being spiritually mentored in building a God-honoring household. Broadly speaking, the content is relevant to parents and grandparents of any age, but is meant to be pre-emptive to the child raising initiative. The purpose of this book is to give (pre-)parents a tangible model and workable vision for growing their family with God’s caring provision. More personally, it’s a legacy tool from the authors to our sons and wives to invite them to consider how they will build their home and reach higher with God’s enablement.

Every religion represents a worldview, an account of human beings and their place in the world, of birth and death, of pain and suffering, of wealth and poverty, of injustice and war. At the dawn of the Christian era, the first Christian intellectuals wrestled with these questions, and in Birth of a Worldview, Robert Doran tells the story of how they worked to make their world comprehensible.

Hopes to break open the Word of God in a different way, enabling preachers and priests to bring the gospel into conversation with the lives of ordinary people through the use of stories. It is the intention of this book to feed the souls of many who never

The Best-Kept Secrets In This Book Will Be A Constant Reminder That The Wisdom of God Is Flowing Through You...Daily! Learn to respect the Law of Sowing and Reaping / Your Hundred-Fold Return / Naming Your Seed / Giving Your Seed Time To Grow / Becoming Someone's Harvest / Start Believing That God Wants You To Prosper! In this wide-ranging and thought-provoking study, Maryanne Cline Horowitz explores the image and idea of the human mind as a garden: under the proper educational cultivation, the mind may nourish seeds of virtue and knowledge into the full flowering of human wisdom. This copiously illustrated investigation begins by examining the intellectual world of the Stoics, who originated the phrases "seeds of virtue" and "seeds of knowledge." Tracing the interrelated history of the Stoic cluster of epistemological images for natural law within humanity--reason, common notions, sparks, and seeds--Horowitz presents the distinctive versions within the competing movements of Hellenistic Judaism and early Christianity, Augustinian and Thomist theologies, Christian mysticism and Kabbalah, and Erasmian Catholicism and the Lutheran Reformation. She demonstrates how the Ciceronian and Senecan analogies between horticulture and culture--basic to Italian Renaissance humanists, artists, and neo-Platonists--influence the emergence of emblems and essays among participants in the Northern Renaissance neo-Stoic movement. The Stoic metaphor is still visible today in ecumenical movements that use vegetative language to encourage the growth of shared values and to promote civic virtues: organizations disseminate information on nipping bad habits in the bud and on turning a new leaf. The author's evidence of illustrated pages from medieval, Renaissance, and Enlightenment texts will stimulate contemporary readers to evaluate her discovery of "the premodern scientific paradigm that the mind develops like a plant."

Success is neither an inheritance, nor an accident. It is God's plan. Total Success Ministries Letter To Pastors Dear Pastors and Leaders, Please allow me to introduce Total Success Ministries; dedicated to helping people understand that God is our provider. God has laid it upon my heart to help people know His will through their finances. Even though we need to work, is not our source of supply. God is our source of supply. It is a difficult balance - working to obtain things but looking to God as the provider of all things -- and we all need to be reminded of the need for this balance time and again. We all tend to loose sight of this fact and think of our job as our provider and our focus gets clouded. And then more and more of our time is spent on material pursuits with little time left for the "spiritual" aspects of life. This results in more stress and far less of the peace that we all can have when our focus is on God and not on our own abilities. No doubt, there are many in your congregation who are struggling with this lack of balance right now and would benefit from learning of success from God's perspective. A Total Success seminar will help people live from God's point of view and grow in their faith in God. Please visit our web site at www.total-success.org where we have posted all the information you need to judge us. As you can see, the focus of the seminar is so much on the spiritual aspects and not on how to manage your money. Please examine these materials and prayerfully consider how those you minister to may benefit from learning more through a Total Success Seminar held in your church.

Soul Seeds is an inspirational book of philosophical insights, accompanied by a series of imaginative drawings, with a foreword by the late Laura Huxley, wife of Aldous Huxley.

Offers a collection of meditations designed to promote deep relaxation, healing, pain relief, and the ability to cope with illness and change

The book, Planting Spiritual Seeds and Uprooting Spiritual Trees: A to Z Prayer Points, is an inspirational spiritual book of prayer. This is a book that compares physical seeds with spiritual seeds, with the aim to enlighten the eyes of understanding of readers that nothing happens by chance. What you sow, you reap—both in the physical and in the spiritual. If you sow good seeds, you reap good harvest. Conversely, if you sow bad seeds, you reap bad harvest. Therefore, consciousness of the nature of seeds one sows and receives is very important because life and death are in the power of the tongue. Furthermore, the book teaches us to uproot what we do not want and establish what we want in our lives through prayers.

Sticks and stones can break your bones and words can also harm you. Mae believes that words (whether good or bad), are actions ready to happen. In speaking the written word, we bring it to life with unlimited potential. If you understand that life and death are in the Power of the tongue, then by all means this book will give you insight on how you can check yourself before uttering the wrong words to your children, to your spouse or to your best friends or even to your co-workers. You will quickly learn how to speak, when to speak, what to speak, and why it is important to use words to our advantage, to favor ourselves, our children and our future. Mae demonstrates the Power of the Spoken Word. Her straight forward and courageous style will challenge you to understand how the spoken word influences whole societies and how you can make a real difference in your world today merely by what you speak. God Plants Seeds is about realizing we all have a purpose on this earth, ordained by God before our births. He fills the hour glass of our lives with time and love; what we do with these gifts determines what we harvest from the fields of our lives, the ubuntu. We are obligated to love one another, to understand the adage, "I am because we are." Loving one person creates ripple effects throughout the world; loving the whole world is our gift of gratitude to God for all He has done for us. Only when we become "Christ with flesh on" will we accomplish God's plan for our lives. Listening for the tolling of a steeple bell from an old country church as evening comes, we hear Christ calling to us to come home. One tiny light, your light, can help heal the world's darkness. love and grace, our children will harvest His peace through the seeds of character and talents that He has planted in all of us. As our Eternal Father, God directs our plans. Without Him, we are nothing; with Him, we can be our very best as leaders of the world. In print for more than forty years, New Seeds of Contemplation has served as a guide to the contemplative life for several generations of spiritual seekers. The word contemplation is itself somewhat problematical, according to Thomas Merton: "It can become almost a magic word, or if not magic, then 'inspirational,' which is almost as bad." In this modern Christian classic, Merton reveals contemplation to be nothing other than "life itself, fully awake, fully active, fully aware that it is alive." The thirty-nine short "seeds" that make up this book are intended to awaken and cultivate the contemplative, mystical dimension of the spiritual path for everyone. New Seeds of Contemplation is a revised and expanded version of Merton's earlier book Seeds of Contemplation.

This volume seeks to explore the intersection of theology, philosophy and the public sphere not by referring the social and political to ethics and deontology as is often the case, but rather to ontology itself, to the very nature of beings. The meaning of history and historicity is most pertinent to this enquiry and is approached here both from the perspective of social reality and from the perspective of ontology. Joining together contributions focusing on theory of the public sphere and metaphysics, chapters explore subjects as diverse as the political implications of the Incarnation, the paradox between ontology and history, politically left and right appropriations of Christianity, the fecundity of Maximus the Confessor's insights for a contemporary political philosophy, modern Orthodox political theology focusing on Christos Yannaras and numerous thematic areas that together form the mosaic of the enquiry in

Presentation True happiness is happiness without a cause. This book is a key that has the power to take us to happiness, simply because its author has dedicated his entire life to understanding what it is, communicating it and teaching it in a lively and selfless way. Happy people will use it as a sounding board to seek to amplify their happiness. Those who are on the way will find markers, signposts and perhaps even a compass... 'Happiness is like a ball: you keep kicking it and running after it, and just as you are about to catch it, you kick it again... and start running after it all over again. Yes, it is the chase that stimulates you. It is in the quest, in the pursuit of a goal that you find happiness. When you get something you want, of course, you are happy for a little while, but that satisfaction is soon followed by a feeling of emptiness, and you start to want something else. Your satisfaction never lasts. So what is the answer? The answer is to set out in pursuit of the farthest and most inaccessible goal: perfection, immensity and eternity. In pursuing this goal, you will find all the things you desire: knowledge, wealth, power and love. Yes, you will find these things without even asking for them.' Omraam Mikhaël Aïvanhov

It is a hodgepodge of poems, doctrinal dissertations, letters to God, and conversations with God, usually with unorthodox formats, conveying themes that are either discoveries of mine, or what I learned from my interactions with fellow Christians, people who fancied themselves to be Christians, and non-Christians; and finally perhaps the most important distinction of all are few revelations the Lord had been nice enough to share with me. Any inaccuracies are strictly mine, particularly when I try to express in words what I have gathered from Him which in and of themselves always would have inherent inadequacies because of the disparity between the finite and the Infinite.
